

Quo Vadis II Website May20,2010

Blog:

QV @ Young Polish Professionals Association Open House

Posted in Uncategorized on March 14, 2010 by quovadisconference

Feb 26 2010, Toronto

We have got a photo of Quo Vadis Co-President Ania Barycka speaking to a group of 60 young professionals and guests at the Young Polish Professionals Association Open House in Toronto Canada. This was a terrific event that furthered networking amongst local young Polish professionals. Bravo!

Leave A Comment »

PISK launch party at Polish Consulate in Toronto

Posted in Uncategorized on February 4, 2010 by quovadisconference

Members of the Quo Vadis Executive Council were present at PISK's launch party event on Jan 22nd 2010. The event featured guests from many student clubs from all over Canada, prominent leaders of the Ontario Polonia and had over 100 people in attendance. The event was to commemorate the inauguration of the newest Polish students' union initiative in Canada; PISK. All in all it was a night to remember, a great celebration with contests and prizes sponsored and organized with the Consulate of the Republic of Poland in Toronto

1 Comment »

QVII, PISK and YPCPA meet at the Toronto Consulate

Posted in Uncategorized on February 4, 2010 by quovadisconference

Here is a photo from a Saturday morning meeting at the Polish consulate in Toronto featuring officials from the Quo Vadis executive council, PISK and YPCPA along with KPK acting-president Jerzy Barycki and Consul General Marek Ciesielczuk. This meeting centered around activities led by each organization that will be a part of the conference. Blockbuster ideas were proposed for the Career Expo, A night in Poland and the Leadership Challenge that will truly make Quo Vadis II a history-maker.

Leave A Comment »

Kamil Mroz spreads the word of QVII to Michael Ignatieff

Posted in Uncategorized on February 4, 2010 by quovadisconference

During a recent visit by Liberal leader Michael Ignatieff to the University of Ottawa, Quo Vadis Co-Prez Kamil Mroz was able to inform the prominent politician about a group of student's efforts to encourage youth leadership and strengthening the Polish community. Micheal Ignatieff was present at the University of Ottawa to give a speech on plans for the future.

Leave A Comment »

Interactive regional coordinator map now live!

Posted in Uncategorized on December 21, 2009 by quovadisconference

The interactive regional coordinator map is now live and online on www.quovadisconference.com, check it out to get to know your RC's better for each region, and all across North America. The map features all the regional coordinators sorted by regions, as well as short bios and photos of each RC.

Just click the link above, then navigate to the Regional Coordinators section at the top toolbar!

Leave A Comment »

Merry Christmas from the Quo Vadis Council

Posted in Uncategorized on December 21, 2009 by quovadisconference

The members of the council would like to wish everyone a merry Christmas, and a safe and happy holiday season!

Leave A Comment »

Quo Vadis Visits Chicago: “Polish American Congress Conference: Challenges and Opportunities”

Posted in Uncategorized on December 17, 2009 by quovadisconference

Three members of the Quo Vadis executive were present at the “Polish American Congress Conference: Challenges and Opportunities” in Chicago on October 14th and 15th. Kamil, Ania and Andrzej all made the long journey down to our southern neighbours to spread the word about the second annual Quo Vadis conference, which will be held in at the University of Windsor May 7th-9th 2010.

All three will certainly agree that the trip to Chicago was a smashing success; Not only were the executives were able to meet personally with our American regional coordinators from New York, New Jersey, Chicago, Cleveland and Texas – but Kamil made a killer speech during panel discussions which certainly has raised the profile of Quo Vadis 2, to a truly “North American” level. Our travellers returned with fresh confidence, inspiration and pockets full of business cards.

Quo Vadis Executives Bid Farewell To Polish Ambassador

Posted in Uncategorized on December 17, 2009 by quovadisconference

Members of the Quo Vadis Council were present at the Polish Embassy in Ottawa to celebrate and bid farewell to the Former Polish Ambassador to Canada H.E Piotr Ogrydzinski. After the speeches and celebrations, The council took the opportunity to present him with a special plaque that we made which contains a photo of his memories in Canada, especially some photos from last years’ Quo Vadis conference.

We were able to get a great photo with the Ambassaor and members of the Quo Vadis executive; Kamil, Ania, Andrzej and Matthew as well as Mr. Lizon.

Zdjecia ze spotkania z ambasadorem Kanady do Polski

Posted in Uncategorized on December 17, 2009 by quovadisconference

Here we have got some photos of Kamil and Ania, co-presidents of the Quo Vadis Council greeting the new Canadian Ambassador to Poland. Our new ambassador, H.E. Dan Costello has just recently replaced H.E. David Preston.

The KPK (Polish Canadian Congress) organized a meeting in the SPK Dom Polski to get the Ottawa Polonia acquainted with the new Ambassador. H.E. Dan Costello was to address the crowd, which he did in POLISH (A 5 minute speech in Polish to be precise).

After the speech, Ania and Kamil took the opportunity to meet H.E Dan Costello to inform him about QUO VADIS 2. Their discussion centered around further cooperation with young people between Canada and Poland. Kamil noted that since so many wonderful laws have been passed to help relations between our two great countries such as the Youth mobility act and the lifting of visas.

Finally, Kamil and Ania presented H.E Dan Costello with a small gift (A delegate booklet from QVI) and an official invitation to join as at the Ambassadors panel to share his experiences in leadership.

President of the KPK was also present Mr. Lizon as well as Tony Muszynski (Executive organizer of Poland in the Rockies)